To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing in reference to Phase2 Advantage, LLC, based in Savannah Georgia, USA.

Our agency, Military V.E.T.S., has been responsible for training hundreds of military personnel leaving the armed forces and preparing these individuals for civilian careers in multiple sectors. I have seen first-hand and up close the amazing quality and total immersion Phase2 Advantage students experience as they enter into the world of cybersecurity and successful information security careers.

The content in Phase2's training material, its cohesiveness of thought, and the ability to transfer those thoughts into unique and practical learning tools is just one of the many things that sets Phase2 Advantage training apart from their competitors.

Each component of Phase2 instruction leads to, and builds upon, the next block until the student is left with a thorough knowledge of the subject matter that was taught. Not just any knowledge, but a "real world" knowledge that transcends "book learning" theories found so often in many cybersecurity training programs.

Phase2 Advantage cybersecurity graduates have been prepared from day one to perform skills effectively, to be confident in their knowledge, and to have the ability to apply that knowledge to their specialized workforce development roles.

It is my professional opinion that Phase2 Advantage has the most comprehensive and skill-based development training platform in the industry. It is noteworthy that they did not stumble upon this accomplishment but did so with vision and thorough planning. With unyielding commitment to the highest standards they have become an example of leadership in the cybersecurity training industry.
